

Health Promotion Activities Plan

*This sample is to assist you in developing a health promotion activity plan. It is not intended to replace medical advice. Any instructions given by the physician regarding this diagnosis must be included.

Name of Individual:

Health Concern/Issue * (Diagnosis)	PERIODONTITIS
Related Body System	Vision Respiratory Lymphatic Dental Hearing Digestive Integumentary (Skin) Endocrine Cardiovascular Nervous Musculoskeletal Genitourinary Blood
What is it? (Provide definition)	Dental disorder resulting from progression of gingivitis (inflammatory/infection of gums), involving inflammation and infection of the ligaments and bones that support teeth. (Also known as periodontal disease, periodontal bone loss, pyorrhea).
Signs and Symptoms (general)	Swollen gums, gums appear bright red or red-purple, gums appear shiny, gums bleed easily (even with gentle brushing), gums may be tender when touched but are painless otherwise, teeth are sensitive to hot/cold, dental abscess, dental cavities, breath odor, loose teeth.
Signs and Symptoms (specific to the person)
Promotion/strategy support required * List very specific steps that the individual and/or caregivers use to support the person's health condition. Include information about monitoring health status. Who is called for changes/ problems in this person's health condition? What is tracked, where it can be found, and who follows up on documentation required for this health condition? Who provides what training for the person and staff about the health condition and when?	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ➤ Watch (name of person) for signs and symptoms listed above and report to (title of person in agency who is responsible to receive this information). ➤ Include any specific instructions from the treating physician. For example, how often the person should brush and floss, use of mouthwash (non-alcoholic), rinsing mouth after meals, etc. ➤ Change toothbrush every 3 months – January, April, July, October ➤ Documentation about this condition can be found in the medical record under (list section here). ➤ Receive training regarding this diagnosis and plan of care (include when to notify the physician) by (title of person who provides medical training) at least (indicate frequency of training) or as changes occur. This should be documented for all staff in the home.
Frequency of support *	Fill in what physician (e.g. dentist, periodontist) treats this condition and how often the person is seen.
Desired outcome *	Maintain good oral care and improve dental health.
Person/agency responsible *	(Name of person) , caregivers, agency nurse, primary care physician, (specialist, if applicable) (The responsible parties may vary according to your agency: please place specific roles in this section. Some other examples might be health care coordinator, program specialist, house manager.)

* FIELDS FOUND IN THE HEALTH PROMOTION SECTION OF THE ISP